SHORT BIOGRAPHY

Dom is a professional piano and keys player based in Staffordshire in the UK and a graduate of the Lancaster Institute for the Contemporary Arts (LICA) at Lancaster University. He reads both staff and chord notation fluently and is an exceptional sight-reader. He is an enthusiastic and dedicated performer with interests in musicals, arranging for jazz and vocal ensembles and musical directing/conducting. Dom plays a wide variety of styles including classical, latin, rock and musical theatre, along with a healthy dose of jazz and improvisation. Recently, he has combined music with a new-found love of travel, completing contracts on board various cruise liners with international itineraries.
